It comes on so gradual, by a little neglect of prayer here, and a little neglect of the word there, a little nelgect of duty yonder, that one has to be on the alert	be aimed at, instead of being rooted in Christ and filled with the fullness of God." A member of the Greenwood family where he was stopping wrote down some of his say- ings: "We must not be content to be only cleansed from sin; we must be filled with the Spirit." In a letter to Miss Bozan- quet, he wrote: "I want not only to see Jesus altogether lovely, but to feel him altogether powerful and	perience does this. Then there is plenty "beyond it," if we only have eyes to see it. Even Fletch- er, centuries ago, saw the fill- ing of the Spirit beyond it and many other glories implied in this. Even after Paul was sav- ed, cleansed, baptized with the Spirit, had great gifts, had struck opposers blind for a sea- son, worked miracles, etc., he still said "Brethren, I count not	out. You may think it a small thing, just 50 cents, but stop and consider just a moment. I suppose there are two or three thousand subscriptions that have already expired. This means the loss of $1,000 which will put the paper badly in debt if not paid at once. Please re- new at once. Several of you could get together and get your money order and send it in. Some leading brother_or sister of each mission, band or church	often don't think so. They of- ten feel of each other respect- ively that the other is a com- promiser, the real Achan is the camp that causes defeat. But without the helpful restraint of each other, each will fall in the ditch, one on one side and the other on the other, while by yielding to the warnings of the other each is kept in the middle of the road. Keep in the road, brother. Their is no higher folly than	"Be filled with the Spirit," and heed the other to "study" the word, that we may rightly di- vide the word of truth. Be neither fanatic, whooping up the spirit and decrying the word nor be formalist who holds to the letter and denies, the spirit. God is not for either. God is spiritual and intellectual too. be backslidden before he hardly knows it. Excuses do not bring God back and pay for the loss of Christ. Therefore take head brother, sister, before He is gone. If you find Him gone al- ready, don't excuse yourself as the devil tells you to, just repent and go down after God till you find Him. OPEN FOR PROPOSITIONS. A committee of three, includ- ing the Editor, is actively en- gaged in considering two invit- ing propositions for locating a permanent BIBLE TRAINING SCHOOL, also a literary school in connection with it. These are for the whole movement. Any person, assembly or city that has any proposition to of-	for this. My vehement soul is on the stretch. Some tell me I carry views too high; but how can that be, if God can do ex- ceedingly abundantly above all we ask or think? Is not the soul joined to the Lard, one Spirit with him? Are we not called to come to the measure of he statue of the fullness of Christ? "But, oh, I want Christ, my resurrection, to be a thousand times more dear to me; and I doubt not he will be so when I am filled with the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of him." The place of the second bless- ing then, in the progressive Christian life, is that of a dis- tinctively marked epoch which brings to view richer treasures	myself yet to have apprehended (laid hold); but one thing I do, forgetting the things that are behind and stretching forward to the things that are before, I press on toward the goal unto the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus," Phil. 3:13-14. Then he exhorts all the rest of us to be "like mind- ed." How this puts to shame those who cannot forget their past blessings, who are always harping on their "second bless- ing" as the time when they got it all. Then some today who have received the baptism and spake in tongues, talk as if they got it all with the ton- gues. The Lord have mercy on our blinded eyes!
